FOREWORD

Experience tells us that before looking at this page you have made at least a hurried inspection of this book as a whole. In just the measure that you are pleased or displeased with this inspection we, the Staff, are successful or unsuccessful. We sincerely hope that this, the fifth volume of Aloha, speaks for itself. In the preparation of it, this has been our aim. Our motto, "To make the best better," has inspired us to excel and we would like for you to follow through this book the progress of our work.

Our greatest wish is that this theme will inspire someone else to excel as it has inspired us to present herewith a true catalogue of our school years at Aycock.

To those friends who have given us inspiration and aid in any way, we wish to express our heartfelt appreciation.

MISS ALICE L. HUGHES

DEDICATION

"So brief a time we have to stay
Along this dear, familiar way;
It seems to me we should be kind
To those whose lives touch yours and mine."

So with grateful hearts we say, "God bless the dear lady who started us on our way. To this dear white-haired "Mother," teacher who labored so faithfully, patiently, and lovingly with the tiny beginners in the Cedar Grove High School, beginning in 1915 and continuously in the new Aycock High School until 1942, we are thankful.

Her duties as first grade teacher through the years have touched the lives of many men and women in this state who remember "Miss Alice" as a kind, loving mother in the first grade.

We, the Seniors of '48, feel that Miss Alice gave us her best in moulding our young minds and giving us the start toward the accomplishments we have now attained.

Thus, in loving homage, we, the Class of 1948, affectionately dedicate the fifth volume of Aloha, to

MISS ALICE L. HUGHES

Retired First Grade Teacher of Cedar Grove

IN MEMORIAM

MR. TIMOTHY EDGAR ALLISON

May 16, 1884—October 13, 1947

For the first time in the twenty-five years of the existence of Aycock School, Death invaded, during this school year, the ranks of the school staff, when on October 13, 1947, Mr. T. E. Allison for 16 years the beloved Janitor, passed from the scene of his labors to the land of rest.

Timothy Edgar Allison was born in this community, May 16, 1884, and lived most of his life within a few miles of the place of his birth. His connection with this school began in 1931, and ended only with the complete failure of his health during the summer of 1947. With Mrs. Allison, he labored faithfully for the welfare of the school. Both teachers and pupils found in him a friend, and no person ever connected with Aycock School was better loved.

Distant indeed will be the day when the mention of Aycock School will not bring him in mind.

HISTORY OF AYCOCK HIGH SCHOOL

A new school was completed in the Cedar Grove Community in January 1925. Since 1915 the Cedar Grove High School had been established in the Cedar Grove Academy building in Cedar Grove. The county had bought the building from Miss Annie Hughes.

The new school was named Aycock in memory of the great educational governor Charles B. Aycock. There were only eight teachers and eight rooms in the new building, and there were one hundred forty-two pupils enrolled. The Rev. Mr. C. D. Whiteley was the first principal, but resigned at the end of the first year.

The second year Mr. Malcom Shepherd became principal and during his two years of service the enrollment was greatly increased, also the Aycock Parent-Teacher Association was organized. It has been very active ever since and has been influential in helping the school to build up its standards.

After Mr. Shepherd left, Mrs. V. L. Warren became principal and remained for fifteen years. During her principalship the school was always active in athletics, and piled up an enviable record, also winning many trophies. Mrs. Warren resigned in the spring of 1940. Mr. Ralph Arrowood filled her vacancy and remained for two years.

At first there was no regular janitor for the school. Some of the older boys did the janitorial work. Later we were fortunate in having "Uncle Tim" as our janitor. He served us faithfully. He and Mrs. Allison gave their best in trying to make our school comfortable and attractive. Since the passing of this friend of pupils and teachers, we feel our loss keenly. Mr. A. T. Wright has this duty and we hope he will remain with us as long as "Uncle Tim".

Today our school has increased greatly in size and enrollment. There are twelve class rooms in addition to a Home Economics building and an Agriculture building. A cannery building has just been completed.

Mr. E. F. Cude became our principal upon the resignation of Mr. Arrowood. Mr. Cude had taught in the High School Department for many years so he was well acquainted with the school before he accepted the work as principal. He is greatly admired by the faculty, students, and patrons of the school.

As the year draws to a close, we, the Class of '48, leave the school hoping that when we return for visits, we will continue to see great improvements taking place to make our Alma Mater a school which any community will be proud to claim.

CLASS HISTORY

On September 18, 1944, 30 boys and girls entered the freshman class with Mr. Cude as our home room teacher. Mr. G. N. Harward taught us Civics. All the girls struggled with Home Economics under Miss Elizabeth Davis, while Mr. Munn taught our boys Agriculture. Our English instruction came very much to being a game of "Turn over the fruit basket." The first few weeks we had Mrs. Caston, Mrs. Brown, and Mrs. Claytor from Hillsboro. Finally, Mrs. Jesse Miller arrived and liked us well enough to remain until Christmas. The new year brought in quick succession, Mr. Cook, Betty Lou Dixon, and Mr. E. N. Clark. Mr. Snyder completed the term as English instructor. He also helped coach the girls' basketball team.

During this year the class held two weiner roasts at Bird Sanctuary in Durham.

When our sophomore year rolled around, we greeted three new teachers. Mrs. J. E. Winslow became our home economics teacher and her sister, Mrs. Margaret Walker, taught biology and algebra. That year biology was our favorite subject. Mrs. Tom Dula joined the faculty as English instructor—at last we had a full time 'un'!

In April, along with the Juniors, we had a banquet at Harvey's Cafeteria, in Durham. Mrs. Walker, our classroom teacher that year, entertained the class with a weiner roast on Hyco Creek. Afterwards we drove to Roxboro where we attended the movies.

When the fall of '46 came, there were 18 Juniors. Doris Taylor and Beulah Oldham, from Efland, had joined us. How proud we were to order our class rings in October, which arrived in January and assured us that we were on the road to success. Mrs. Tom Dula directed our play, "Miss Jimmy." We achieved successful results as we gave two performances and netted $133.46.

On April 4th of that year we entertained the Juniors at a banquet given at the school house.

In this, our Senior year, Mrs. Walker returned and we retained the other teachers of the previous year. Our greatest project has been the Yearbook. Mrs. C. H. Pender has been generous in giving us invaluable assistance.

To date our class has not completed plans for our senior play. We are eagerly anticipating an excursion to Washington, D. C., in the spring.

We are looking ahead to commencement exercises the latter part of May. May it be a commencement in a real sense as it writes the final words of this history of our years at Aycock High.

MARIANNE PITTARD, Class Historian.

CLASS PROPHECY

One spring morning in 1958, as I started my work around the house, I picked up my old Annual and while looking through it, I decided to find out what happened to the old gang. So after a little thought I packed my bag and started for Cedar Grove. My first stop was our "dear old Alma Mater."

As I entered the school building, the first person I saw was Beulah Oldham, who by this time had gotten her degree and was teaching the seventh grade. As I talked to her, I learned that Doris Taylor had gone to Elon and made quite a record playing basketball and was on her way to New York to play in the National Tournament.

After looking the old school over and finding a lot of improvements, I visited Mrs. Charlie Berry, who before her marriage was Zelota Compton. Here I learned quite a bit of news.

Mary Alice Sharpe had taken a beauty course and by this time has a complete shop of her own. Julia Allison who had planned to take a beauty course, decided she would be better as a housewife for " (we need not call any names. Margie McAdams had finished business school and is a good stenographer and has a prominent job with A. A. Fuller in Mebane.

From here I decided to stop by and see Nell Liner. She gave me the dope on a few of the others. Frank Liner, after visiting "The Friendly Undertaker," for some time, decided to take away Mr. Walker's daughter and had moved to Raleigh where he had a good job. Glen Caruthers, I hear, has a job in the Post Office in Durham and is still keeping company with a certain "Kitty." Warren Hawkins decided he could make his living from the soil, so he's still plowing every spring in his father's farm. Bernard Terry went to Croft's Business School and is now working with income tax in Durham.

My time was running short so I thought I would run by to see Mother before I started for home. Here I learned that Margaret Burton and Tom Pope, "the inseparable couple" in the good old days, had finished medical school and were working together at Duke as a doctor and nurse. I also learned that Marianne Pittard has finished her Business Course at Elon and was working in a private office of Jefferson Life Insurance Company in Raleigh. Burch Compton had gone to school and was now a physical education teacher at Aycock, since Mr. Cude had retired.

Victor Phelps took a F. B. I. course and now he has a good job in Washington as a special F. B. I. agent.

As I was on my way back home, I stopped at an attractive Florist and found the owner was Ralph Compton, who was as happy as could be raising all sorts of pretty flowers.

I, Sara Frazier, who happened to have been class prophet, am happy doing a full-time job as housewife in Washington.

SARA ANN FRAZIER, Class Prophet.

SENIOR CLASS POEM

THE NEW ROAD

We have reached a goal today, and yet, our life's work just begun:

There are tasks that are awaiting and are eager to be done. Four years we climbed the old road with our classmates, teachers, friends—

And now we try a new way which is just around the bend.

We are loyal to our school, and her name we proudly bear; We are grateful for our parents, their unselfish love and care. Nor will we forget, ever our motto high and true But the Great Beyond is calling—it's the road that's strange and new.

Strange and new this road before us—yet we enter hopefully—

Alma Mater's trainings armed us for life that is to be; So now, comrades, as we're leaving, "forward" is our command—

And remember we are guided to nobler issues than we planned.

RALPH C. COMPTON, Class Poet.
